

Title

In the community there are many different ways that students and family can help children, elders, families and people that can't afford items needed. Some volunteer work can be simple, yet helpful for people that need help like a food drive or even get donated items that you can give to people and families that need them. Some examples of volunteer work is volunteering at an animal hospital, a regular hospital, volunteering at an animal shelter, or even just picking up litter on the side of the road.
